

KR GATHERING

Sentinel Photo

George Kiracofe examines one of several KR Planes on display during the annual KR Gathering at Mt. Vernon Outland Airport. The event went all day and was the tenth year at the airport due to the support the event had received.

Sentinel Photo

There were several KR Planes on display Saturday at Mt. Vernon airport during the annual KR Gathering. According to Co-host Larry Flesner these types of planes were first designed around the early 1970's and are made out of aircraft grade wood and there is foam placed in between the structure and fiberglass. The KR planes are classified as E-AB for Experimental Amateur Built.

Sentinel Photo

FROM LEFT, Dan Rondeau and Rob Schmitt, builder and pilot get one of the KR Planes ready for take off Saturday at Mt. Vernon Outland Airport during the annual KR Gathering.

9/18/12