

READER'S VIEW

Oct. 22, 2013

Young Eagles recognized

Dear Editor:

Every once in awhile something really nice happens that makes you see how really good people are.

On Saturday, Oct. 19, Chris Collins, the manager of the Mt. Vernon airport, sponsored the Young Eagles fliers that let children ages 8-16 get a free ride in an airplane. A lot of young people came.

What was special is the way they behaved. No pushing, shouting or shoving. They stood in line and waited their turn.

They brought their brothers, sisters, moms, dads, uncles, aunts, grandmas and grandpas. Their families took pictures as they boarded the planes and when they returned from their new adventures.

Each child was given a certificate to keep to remember their special day.

It was a pleasure to see the good side of young people. How very nice!

Elvira Canzanella
Mt. Vernon