

OUR VIEW

Honoring those who serve our country

On Sunday, the Veterans Hall of Honor was dedicated at Mt. Vernon Outland Airport.

The speakers, veterans themselves, made a point of thanking those who took the time and made the effort to create the hall, and more than 100 people were in attendance at the dedication. Making the ceremony more touching was the backdrop of the dedication — the B-17 Flying Fortress, a veteran herself.

While the veterans whose names and pictures are displayed in the Hall have earned our respect and our support, there are more veterans in our community whose names and pictures should be in the Hall.

We honor and thank all those veterans of our community who have served this country and this community to ensure our rights and freedoms.